Overview

NWP's training series 'Emerging Leaders' serves to grow foundational self-leadership skills, collaborative relationship skill capacities and strategic thinking approaches in order to lead in our complex and volatile healthcare environment. Adaptable, approachable and resilient physician leaders will help our organization improve performance through engaged health care teams, now and into the future.

Outcomes

- Identify personal leadership style
- Identify and sharing of "Leadership Why"
- List two aspects of Leadership Influence
- Describe one idea to move from being reactive to creative
- Recall benefits of high-trust relationships
- Name one withdrawal and deposit leaders make in the "Relationship Bank Account"
- Coach a peer through a challenge
- Discuss the value of using a balcony view on issues leaders face
- Identify one strategy to build SELFCARE into your routines
- Identify what aspects make problems complex vs. complicated.

Audience

This course is designed for clinicians interested in growing their leadership foundational skills. It is a great opportunity for those who hope to be future leaders or mentors.

All physicians and clinicians are considered leaders at Northwest Permanente. Attend the new Emerging Leaders program to grow and develop leadership capacities while building on your clinical excellence and problem-solving abilities to expand your insight, compassion and wise action.
